To: AMD customers, vendors and business partners

Today we are excited to announce that OSI Creative has acquired AMD Industries located in the Chicago, Illinois area. Both companies share the same passion for customer service, creativity, quality and innovation. In combining the two entities, our customers will enjoy an even greater level of expertise and a wider range of service offerings.

Our teams are looking forward to speaking to you further about the many benefits this combination brings. In the interim, AMD continues to operate in full with no disruption in quality or service.

The AMD name and brand has a rich history, and as such will remain in place. They will be known as AMD, An OSI Company.

AMD has an excellent reputation in the industry and has delivered innovative programs to some of the world's largest brands over the years. Their team is top notch, and we are so pleased to welcome them to the OSI family.

Over the next few weeks, we will be having meetings with customers, vendors and other business partners to further articulate the increased offerings that the combined entity brings. If you have any immediate questions, please contact your AMD sales representative or support team member.

Administrative details such as new remit-to information will be communicated soon. Thank you for your continued support, and we look forward to working together!

Sincerely,

John Kellogg
